Saint Joe campus undergoes major changes

The million-dollar renovation of the Saint Joe science building this summer constituted the major physical plant improvement at the college, but it was by no means the only campus project.

More than $250,000 was invested in improvements ranging from tuckpointing of the chapel and administration building to new roofs on three buildings.

"We handled our improvement projects in terms of priorities and according to what needed to be done," says Ron Geleott '65, assistant vice president for facilities and planning. "We did preventive maintenance with an eye on long-term savings, retaining an attractive campus, and promoting efficiency and comfort for users of college facilities."

Geleott says the tuckpointing ranked among the more necessary improvements. Workmen also repaired the stone coping on the sides of these structures, caulked adjoining wall areas, cient windows were installed in Raleigh Hall and the administrative computer center. Improvements in Raleigh also included new aluminum siding and insulation along the building's west side and the addition of new restrooms.

Aluminum siding now covers the overhang on the breezeway between the chapel and the administration building and, in Merlini Hall, halland replaced the copper flashing on the chapel towers.

New roofs were placed atop the carpenter shop, Aquinas Hall, and the upper section of Raleigh Hall, and energy-effiway ceiling tiles have been removed, the ceilings replastered and painted on both floors, and the floors replaced in first- and second-floor shower stalls.

James Lennane '61 is SJC's first $1 million donor

Although he went to Saint Joseph's College for only two years, James Lennane nevertheless termed it "pay back time" when he became the first million-dollar donor in the school's history.

"Saint Joe helped me at a time when I most needed it," he said. "The priests and brothers gave me the discipline and male leadership at a critical juncture in my life."

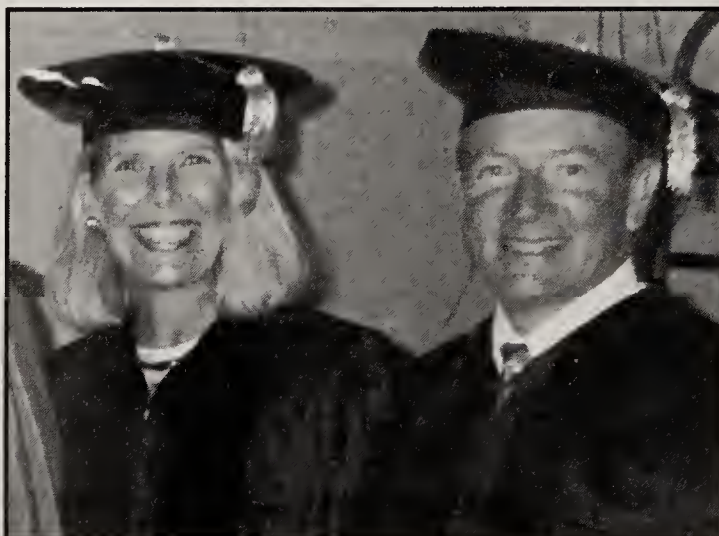

Lennane, a highly successful entrepreneur in businesses ranging from computer consulting to the design and manufacture of newspaper systems, received an honorary doctor of laws degree at this year's commencement exercises in May.

"Saint Joseph's can have a major impact on what its alumni become in life and in life's work because education translates into productivity," he said. "I've always been willing to buck the trend and to take chances, and my experience at Saint Joe proves you can achieve great success without making A's at Stanford," Lennane observes. "There is a great value in perpetuating this type of education and there is room for all of us to succeed if we're willing to work."

The Lennanes now live in Naples, Fla.

Renovated library to be named for Robinsons

Saint Joe's newly renovated library will also have a new name when it is reopened at the start of the fall semester. Father Charles Banet, C.P.P.S., has announced that the library will bear the names of Keith Robinson, the late owner and publisher of the Rensselaer Republican, and his wife, Kate.

"Keith and Kate were actively associated with Saint Joseph's administrators and faculty members for many years," he told the gathering at the annual Fellows Dinner held on campus in June. "They were generous and loyal supporters of the college and its goals in higher education, and Kate remains active in her support of our college. It is most appropriate that our library be named in their honor."

Naming of the library in their honor was suggested by SJC alumnus James Lennane, whose million-dollar gift made possible the renovation of the science building, which houses the library.

Keith and Kate Robinson were both early members of the Fellows Program, a group of college supporters organized in the early 1960s by the late Father Raphael Gross, C.P.P.S., SJC president during 1951-65. They were named President's Fellows in 1975 in recognition of their support of the college. Both of them played key roles in the college's Brick-by-Brick Campaign that followed the fire that destroyed the campus administration building in 1973.

In recognition of their service to SJC, the college presented the Robinsons with honorary doctors of letters degrees during the school's 83rd annual commencement exercises in 1978.

Martha Mills leaves Alumni Director position; replacement sought

Alumni Director Martha Mills has left her position at Saint Joseph's College to live in Sauk Centre, Minnesota, where her husband has accepted a veterinary position.

We make this announcement with deep regret, for Martha had, during her two-year tenure at the college, furthered greatly alumni involvement by means of class agents and chapter development. She also was influential in promoting volunteer networking, thereby increasing alumni board visibility both on and off campus. We shall miss her.

A search committee has been established to find a replacement.

Saint Joseph's College Alumni Association has elected officers for a series of two- and three-year terms:

President John Carey '60. He is vice president for sales of Keyboard Productivity, Inc., in Aurora, Ill.

Vice President for Financial Affairs Thomas Kuhar '64. He is executive vice president for retail of the Society Bank in South Bend, Ind.

Vice President for Campus Relations Irv Valente '58. He is the accounting manager for Navistar, Inc., in Oak Brook Terrace, Ill.

Vice President for Academics and Recruiting Ralph Loura '86. He is a computer network software engineer with AT&T Bell Laboratories in Naperville, Ill.

Vice President for Alumni Relations Jim Quinn '63. He is a chartered financial consultant in Munster, Ind.

Vice President for Chapter Development Dick Vallin '59. Retired from the U.S. Navy, he is president and CEO of Advanced Manufacturing Technologies, Inc., in Grafton, Wisc.

Staggered terms were instituted during these elections whereby Quinn, Loura, and Valente will serve two-year terms and Carey, Kuhar, and Vallin will serve three-year terms. Three-year terms will be standard for all future officers.

Joining the Alumni Board as of August 1 is Ed Hennekes '56, a partner with Ernst & Young in Louisville, Ky. It is hoped that his participation on the board will strengthen alumni organization in the Louisville area.

Additional Father Gross Fellows were: Bette Banet, Mary Bavolek, Michael Davis, Annette Fox, Edward and Virginia Mc Caskey, and Clareta Roberts.

Join us for Parents' Weekend 1991

The executive committee of the Parents' Council has organized a busy weekend for parents, October 18-20. The big event begins with parents' being invited to attend regularly scheduled Friday classes. This will give everyone a chance to see a typical SJC classroom. On Friday, all parents are also invited to attend the Parents' Council executive committee meeting at 4:00 p.m. The Council works on a number of projects during the year including Parents' Weekend. Attend this meeting if you are interested in getting involved with the Council.

Saturday's events include several informational sessions led by faculty and administrative staff. Two of these programs will focus on Career Planning and Placement and a general overview of Core. The third program will be presented by our College Archivist, Fr. Dominic Gerlach, C.P.P.S., who will bring an audiovisual presentation of the history of Saint Joseph's that no one should miss. Fr. Gerlach's delivery and message are highly educational, touching, and funny. That afternoon the SJC Pumas take on Ashland at 1:30.

The weekend tops off with the Parent and Student Dinner in the Halleck Center Ballroom. Plan to make your reservations early for the dinner and then attend the play, The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940.

Check the schedule for a complete listing of events. All parents will receive a Parents' Weekend mailing with more detailed information, as well as the reservation form, in September. Please join us for the weekend of October 18-20!

Centennial Activities

The Centennial Celebration Goes North . . .

Centennial dinners continue and in April and May we drew crowds in South Bend, Indiana, and the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, area. The final round of dinners will be in October and November in Denver, Minneapolis, Detroit, and St. Louis.

Milwaukee area alumni, parents, and friends enjoyed a very pleasant late April evening at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Brookfield. Special thanks go out to Mark Heinen '75, Ray Kuzniar '59, Bill Sobie '75, and Dick Vallin '59 for all the work they put into this evening. Guests attending included: Joel Francoeur '55, Mark Heinen '75; Kathleen and Bill '41 Herber; John Higgins '66, Patrick '76 and Patricia Hajdich '77 Knight, Nancy and Russell Kuelz, Ilona and Tom '63 Kuchta, Joan and Ray '59 Kuzniar, Gregory Schmidt '75, Donna and Bill '75 Sobie, Anne Vallin '86 and Gene Boch, Angie and Richard '59 Vallin, William Waters '71, and Diana and Tom '69 Weisenburger.

Tom Kuhar '64 and John '80 and Mary Dlugosz '81 Krisch organized a very nice evening for guests at the Society Bank, downtown South Bend, May 9. Special thanks also go out to Joe Roman and Mike Fitzpatrick for their help during the evening. Guests joining us for dinner included: Ed and Rosemary Dlugosz, LeRoy Ellgass '59, Kenneth Fedder '56, Rick Fedder '89 and Diane Richey, Mike Fitzpatrick, Marilyn and Bill '61 Fortin, Missy and John Hintz, Madelyn and Harold '70 Holdeman, Marilyn and Bob '63 Imbur, Edward Kolaczyk '58, John '80 and Mary Dlugosz '81 Krisch, Debbie and Tim '77 Kuhar, Donna and Tom '64 Kuhar, Wally Moore '50, Beverly and Bob '61 Ramesh, Rita Giel Reust '81, Joe Roman, Fr. Michael Winkowski '64, and Julie and Arthur '61 Zielinski.

Fort Wayne

It's a bus trip to Saint Joe for Homecoming 1991! Plan to join area alumni, parents, and friends for the Centennial Homecoming celebration—avoid the hassles of the drive across the state and the parking once you get there, take part in the camaraderie, enjoy the munchies, and walk right up to the game with your advance issue football ticket. Day-long outing tickets are $22.50/person. You should already have received detailed information and the reservation form, but if you did not (or accidentally filed it away), contact Bernadette Wilson '86 at 219/432-0887, or Angela Jehl '86 at 219/422-4787 for more details and to register.

Maureen Egan '90, Alumni Recruitment Corps Director, will be meeting this fall with area alumni volunteers interested in helping with admissions and the recruitment process. More information will be in the mail soon.

The alumni and parent surveys have been pouring in and are currently being analyzed. The planning committee will be putting the information gathered to good use in planning the next steps in the formation of the Fort Wayne Alumni Chapter. Stay tuned for further developments. If you would like to volunteer for chapter work or more specifically, for admissions projects, or have additional information for the Fort Wayne organizers, contact Angela Jehl at 219/422-4787.

Indianapolis

Forty-four Indianapolis area alumni, friends, students, parents, and College representatives enjoyed a sunny day for the 3rd annual area golf outing on June 2 at the Smock Golf Course. Organizer Jeff Taylor '77 thought it was a good crowd and expects that they'll have even more golfers next year. Alumni golfers participating this year spanned classes from 1952 through 1990. The outing was followed by a cookout and awards presentation. Prizes were awarded for low scores on a gross basis and with handicap. Winners for the day (low gross) included: 1st place—Frank Sergi '77; 2nd place—Jeff Brinkley '84; and 3rd place—Paul Sergi. In the low handicap: 1st place—Gina Miller '94; 2nd place—Troy Flowers '82; and 3rd place—Terry Theysen.

The general meeting for business will be held in late October or early November. More details will be in the mail soon. Plan to attend this informational meeting and get involved with area activities.

Ann O'Hara '85 recently met with Maureen Egan '90, Director of the SJC Alumni Recruitment Corps program and is setting up an area meeting for alumni admissions volunteers early this fall. Your help with recruitment is essential and if you are interested in this program, contact Ann at 317/255-6867.

Chicago

June 20, Oak Meadows Golf Course was the site for the annual golf outing. Tim Buckley '73 coordinated this highly successful event. Golfers enjoyed 18 holes in the ever-so-warm sunshine and topped off the day with a grand buffet that was attended by alumni, family, friends, SJC coaches, and College faculty and staff. Special thanks go out to Tim for all his work in coordinating this event. He already has alumni-in-training workers—thanks to Bridget O'Brien '93 and Kate Connor '93. Following the dinner, five golfers received the major prizes for the day (see photo, below).

Chicago alumni gathered once again on July 13 at Bemis Woods South in Ogden, Illinois, to celebrate and rekindle memories of their Saint Joe experiences. A special feature of the day was an outdoor Mass celebrated by Rev. Tom Conde

And the Chicago Golf Outing winners are... Mike Cullen (low gross); Joe Santschi '84 (closest to pin); Tim Buckley '73 (organizer of outing); Terry Dane '76 (low net); and John Conroy '61 (closest to pin).

'78. Everyone gathered to share with one another in worship before commencing with the day's activities. A cookout followed with plenty of food and beverages to beat the summer heat. Volleyball, softball, and frisbee kept both the young and "not so old" very busy. Many thanks to Bill McGuire '66 (and Linda and Michael!), Ted Scudder '75, Lou Szucs '90, and Mary Schueren '75 for their organization of this great day.

Upcoming Chicago activities include the annual meeting for business on October 2 at Red Kerr's and the annual Holiday Party on November 30 at Red Kerr's. More information on both these events will be in the mail this fall to area alumni, parents, and friends.

Cincinnati/Dayton

The Cin-Day alumni group gathered for a picnic June 23 at Sharon Woods in Sharonville, Ohio. Greg Wilkins '77 and Mary K. Bergman '79 organized this event. More than thirty people gathered for an afternoon of food, fun, and reminiscing. Guests for the day were SJC faculty members John and Anne-Marie Egan, professors of music, and Maureen Egan '90, director of the SJC ARC program.

Cin-Day alumni and friends are invited out for America's favorite pastime on Friday, September 13 at 7:35 p.m. as the Cincinnati Reds face the Houston Astros. Tickets are still available for a cost of $7.00 each. If you would like more information concerning this event, please contact Rose Scollard '84 at 513/891-8714.

Maureen Egan '90, ARC Director, will be meeting this fall with area alumni volunteers interested in helping with admissions and the recruitment process. More information will be in the mail soon.

South Bend

With the recent Centennial dinner behind them, the South Bend group plans to survey area alumni concerning the formation of a formal alumni chapter. The survey is being developed now and will be in the mail this fall. Results from the survey will determine the best route to follow over the course of the next year.

Northwest Indiana

Alumni are meeting this fall to determine the direction of the chapter in terms of event programming and work with admissions and career planning and placement. Contact Tim Daly '88 if you would like to work with the chapter organization: 219/462-0697.

Louisville

Jane Jankowski '81 recently met with Maureen Egan '90, director of the ARC program, to plan for an organizational meeting of all alumni interested in volunteering for admissions work. More information will be in the mail to local alumni soon.

We need your help!

For the Little 500 Program:

The SJC Student Union Board Little 500 Committee is trying to add more photos and features about the past 28 Little 500 races in its 1992 Official Little 500 Commemorative Program. But they need your help!

Photos and the stories about when you raced in or watched the Little 500 in past years are needed for the trivia pages. Examples of features are: Why do we call Noonan's Corner by that name? How did you build your first kart and with what materials? When did we put in engines? Who were our Little 500 Chairpersons?

If you have the answers to any of these questions or know of any other significant details about past races, please contact the Student Activities Office, P.O. Box 741, Saint Joseph's College, Rensselaer, IN 47978; 219/866-6142. (All contributors will receive credit for their photos and stories. Photos will be returned.)

...and they came two by two to ARC

Alumni...the greatest single resource on which an institution can depend. It is in this spirit that the Saint Joseph's College Alumni Recruitment Corps (ARC) program was established—to capitalize on the recruiting abilities of you, the alumni. ARC volunteers are "ambassadors" of Saint Joseph's College, acting as special representatives of the college while serving the needs of college-bound students in their respective communities.

It is the goal of the ARC program to improve SJC's ability to identify, attract, and enroll high quality students who excel in academics and are active in their extracurricular lives. The enrollment of students such as these should substantially enhance the college's learning environment, both academically and socially. ARC will assist SJC in achieving its goals by demonstrating support not only for Admissions, but for the institution as a whole.

The ARC program is quite young at SJC and puts its emphasis on planning, building, and maintaining. The planning phase is coming full-circle with a fall recruiting season close at hand.

ARC volunteers will be active in the "first phase" from mid-September through December with responsibilities that include identifying prospective students for the college, encouraging prospective students to visit the campus, attending local receptions or college fairs with Admissions personnel in their respective geographical territory, and, most importantly, phoning and following up on students who have expressed an interest or who have applied to Saint Joe.

Maureen Egan '90

ARC's "second phase" will occupy the calendar from January through April. At this time, high school seniors are looking more seriously into their collegiate futures. ARC volunteers will be available to both students and parents to answer any further questions about the college. Additionally, they will make congratulatory phone calls to students when they are accepted at Saint Joseph's College.

The ARC volunteer will average 12 to 15 hours of service to the college in the course of a school year. Each chartered chapter of the SJC Alumni Association will have its own ARC chairperson, if one has not already been designated. ARC will be expanding to the East Coast and Florida late this fall.

ARC volunteers will be assisting SJC with their plan to build a successful and rewarding program. With your help it will be maintained to guarantee yet another 100 years of SJC—a school so blessed with a history rich in heritage and an alumni association overflowing with dedicated individuals.

If you are interested in volunteering for the ARC program in any capacity—phoning, hosting an area reception, visiting college fairs, keeping records, etc.—please call Maureen Egan '90, director of ARC, at 219/866-6219.

Plans for women's symposium under way

"Making Connections" is the title of a symposium scheduled for Sat., Nov. 9, at Saint Joe's, and the planning committee is firming up speakers and special activities that will deal with issues relevant to today's women, including non-traditional careers, women in athletics, community service, financial planning and credit, and developing and maintaining self-esteem. In addition to providing a forum where a variety of women can discuss their work and personal experiences, the symposium will also make it possible for college-age women to interact with others who have had an opportunity to develop—or alter—their career plans over the years ... and vice versa. Alumnae/alumni and friends of the college are invited; there is no charge. For more information contact the Alumni Office at 219/866-6123.

Edward Fischer '34 is the author of his fourteenth book, The Chancy War, published recently by Orion Books. It tells of his experiences in India, Burma, and China during World War II and is dedicated to Paul Speckbaugh, a priest stationed at Saint Joseph's College while the author was a member of the SJC faculty.

Prof. Fischer was a journalist before he began teaching at SJC in 1939. After World War II he began teaching at the University of Notre Dame and has remained there for 44 years. His autobiography, Notre Dame Remembered, includes a description of his life at SJC as student and faculty member.

Retired in 1987, he now spends each day writing. Titles for two upcoming books are Available to God and Designing a Life. He is the author of several hundred magazine articles and a few film scripts and made five films in Hollywood, playing opposite Ann Blyth, Ruth Hussey, and Jayne Meadows.

SJC presented Dr. Fischer with the Alumni Merit Award in 1961 and with an honorary Doctor of Letters in 1979. On each occasion he gave the commencement address.

Rev. Edward I. Hession '35 recently celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination. St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church parishioners, past and present students, and clergy and relatives paid tribute to him at a Mass, reception, and dinner on June 9. Rev. Hession retired from the parish in 1986, after building the largest parish in the Fort Wayne/South Bend Catholic diocese, but has continued to say Mass, hear confessions, and celebrate a live TV Mass every Sunday.

Frank F. "Fritz" Fehrenbacher '50 was honored in April as the 1991 Retailer of the Year by the Illinois Retail Merchants Association (IRMA). He is the recently retired owner and founder of Fehrenbacher's Individual Fashions in Joliet. Mr. Fehrenbacher has been active in Joliet retail activities for many years. He has served on the Downtown Development Council's board of directors, is a member of the Joliet Region Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and in January, 1989, became an active member of the City Center Owners and Managers Association. He has been a member of the Joliet Rotary since 1969 and is involved in the Rotary's Habitat for Humanity project. He and his wife, Jeanette, are the parents of eight children and six grandchildren. They are active parishioners of the Cathedral of St. Raymond and have been avid supporters of the parents' organizations at Joliet Catholic High School and St. Francis Academy.

Class of 1951: Plan to return for Homecoming, September 27-29!

Hubert J. Miller '51 is presently professor of history at the University of Texas-Pan American. He is a member of the editorial board of the recently founded Journal of Texas Catholic History and Culture and presented a paper at the Latin America Studies Association meeting in Washington, D.C., in April.

Fr. Charles Banet, C.P.P.S., '50, president of Saint Joseph's College, received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the college on May 5 at the 96th annual commencement exercises. In his presidency, the longest in the school's history, Fr. Banet expanded the role of laymen in the governance and activities of the college. He was supportive of the adoption of residential co-education in 1968 and the Core general education curriculum in 1969. Fr. Banet received a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy from SJC in 1950 and a masters degree in library science from the University of Michigan in 1951. He also received an honorary degree from Calumet College in Whiting, Indiana, in 1970.

He is the author of a chapter for the Historia General de Guatemala, scheduled for publication in 1992, an article in the 1991 winter issue of Journal of Church and State, and entries for two Guatemalan prelates in the Encyclopedia of Latin American History, to be published in 1992. ## An open letter from Paul J. Stucker, M.D., '59...

It Got the Job Done

All too often, a college or university is difficult to judge or appraise. Frequently it takes the retrospective view of history to accurately assess a particular school's educational value. Such a situation has now surfaced with regard to my alma mater, Saint Joseph's College.

The story begins in 1952 when my older brother, Fred Stucker, chose Saint Joseph's College. He had attended Mt. Carmel High School in Chicago and didn't particularly distinguish himself, and I am really not sure what prompted his choice. Two years later, after finishing high school at St. Ignatius, my older brother, Tom, began his college career at Saint Joe and one year later I joined him. Perspective is important here. The world was smaller. We were of the Eisenhower generation with a quite narrow focus. My entire college vision consisted of three states: Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan. California was a far off and expensive 18-hour plane flight, not a place my father would allow his son to attend college. The Ivy League schools were the provinces of the eastern establishment, not South Chicago kids like our family represented.

So it came to pass that for several years in the '50s there were three Stuckers at Saint Joseph, and interestingly enough all in pre-med. As we progressed through Saint Joe we were relatively unconstrained. I myself had the freedom to audit various classes, take qualifying tests as I chose, and could take as many classes or credit hours as I could pack into a semester. The small size of both the school and the student body plus the flexibility of the faculty made it very convenient for me to challenge myself, taking up to 24 credit-hour courses in one semester. When it came time to apply to medical school it never dawned on any of us that Saint Joe was not a "prestige school." Fred went on to the University of Michigan, from which he graduated in 1961; he is now a professor of ENT at LSU Medical School in Shreveport, Louisiana. Brother Tom went on to the University of Chicago Medical School, where he graduated in 1961 also. Currently he is a staff radiologist at Mills Hospital in San Mateo, California. After only three years at Saint Joe I applied to three different medical schools (Illinois, Michigan, and North Western). I chose North Western Medical School and have never regretted the decision. I now am a practicing orthopedic surgeon in Redwood City, California.

The second generation of Stuckers has now either begun or completed its college careers. For this group, the horizons were broader and the opportunities greater due to a changing world. These students chose the University of California, Berkeley, and LSU. None even applied to Saint Joe. My own daughter, who recently went through the college application process, asked me how and why I attended Saint Joe. After careful consideration, I replied simply, "Because it got the job done."

Father Edward Roof dies at age 88

Father Edward Roof, C.P.P.S., '29, a former athletic director, tennis coach, and bookstore manager at Saint Joseph's College, died July 13 at Saint Charles Seminary in Carthage, Ohio, at age 88. A funeral Mass was held four days later in the Chapel of the Assumption at Saint Charles, and burial followed in the seminary cemetery. A memorial Mass was held that same week in the SJC chapel.

Fr. Roof was born Nov. 13, 1902, in Ottawa, Ohio, and entered Saint Mary's Novitiate at Burkettsville, Ohio, in 1917. He first came to SJC as a student in 1918 and began his studies at Saint Charles Seminary in 1923.

He and 13 classmates were ordained Feb. 21, 1929, and he earned a master of arts degree from the Catholic Univ. of America in Washington, D.C., in 1931. He started teaching Latin and Greek at SJC in 1929 and resumed those duties when he returned from Catholic Univ. in 1931.

He served as athletic director during 1937-53, during which time Alumni Fieldhouse, permanent football bleachers, and a press box were constructed. He also coached the Pumas' highly successful tennis program during 1948-58, then served as bookstore manager.

Fr. Roof was president of the Indiana Intercollegiate Conference, an athletic league that included SJC and as many as 11 additional Hoosier colleges that competed with each other during the 1930s and 1940s.

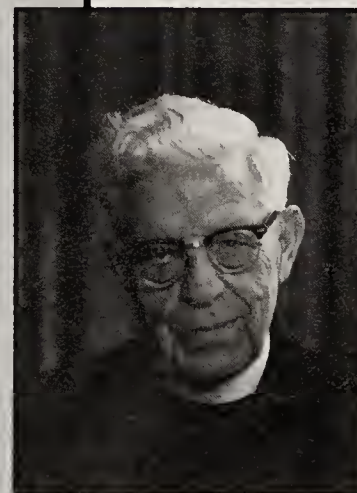

Throughout his tenure in the athletic department, the classroom, and the bookstore, Fr. Roof was well liked by students and athletes who appreciated his helpful, caring presence.

He received an honorary degree from Saint Joseph's College in April, 1976, the same year he retired from the SJC faculty. He was inducted into the SJC Sports Hall of Fame in 1985.

Fr. Roof was active in assorted area activities and had many friends among area citizens. He enjoyed performing Sunday parish work and celebrated Sunday Mass during the summers at the Circle C Camp north of Rensselaer until recently.

"Solid Catholic higher education is a very important mission," he said recently. "I am happy to have devoted most of my life to this mission."
